

Twenty-Fifth Enrollment Exceeds First Eight Times

Six hundred and seventy-two students had enrolled for daytime courses at Joplin Junior College last Friday with more enrolling this week. This figure surpassed last fall's enrollment at this period by 81. One hundred and seventy-six had enrolled for night courses.

Twenty-five years ago Joplin Junior College began with an enrollment of one hundred students as an extension of the University of Missouri in the same building where it is now located.

In the following fall, however, Joplin Junior College was officially on its own in the building at Fourth Street and Byers Avenue where it remained until 1958. In 1938, second-year courses were added and the first class was graduated.

In 1937-38, Joplin residents could attend J. J. C. for a semester fee of $25 and non-residents for $45 a semester.

Mr. H. E. Blaine was the first Dean of Joplin Junior College and served until 1947. Since then J. J. C. has had four deans: Dr. F. H. Bryant, Thomas H. Flood, Dr. Maurice L. Litton, and Dr. Leon Billingsly.

In 1949 Joplin Junior College was accepted as a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The membership assures acceptance of credit from J.J.C. in any college or university in the 20 states of the Middle West served by the N.C.A.

Over 2500 students have graduated from Joplin Junior College in the past 25 years. Many times that number have enrolled for day and night classes and for vocational courses at Franklin Technical School. The ever-increasing enrollment has made it necessary to enlarge the faculty from the 19 of 1938 to 29.

Many interesting and important events are being planned to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary.

North Central College Council To Meet Here

The eighteenth annual convention of the Council of North Central Junior Colleges will meet in Joplin October 8, 9, and 10. Dr. Maurice Litton extended the invitation last spring as part of Joplin Junior College's plans for the observance of the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

Outstanding speakers to be featured during the convention are Dr. Raymond Young of the University of Michigan; Dr. Lawrence Borosage, Michigan State University; Dr. Leonard Axe, president of Kansas State College, Pittsburg; Durward G. Hall, representative, Seventh District of Missouri; and Orville Roberts of Sinclair Prairie Pipeline Company.

Topics for group discussion will center around the convention theme, "The Role of Community Junior Colleges Today and Tomorrow." Areas to be considered are administration and legislation, biological science, health and education, business education, and business communications.

Special activities will include an exhibition of precision drilling by the Norse Stars of Northeastern Oklahoma A & M at 5:30 Sunday afternoon in the Senior High gymnasium. The Joplin Junior College Choir will give a performance at 7:30 Sunday night in the Senior High auditorium, and the Fort Smith Junior College Choir will perform at 12 o'clock Monday in the Connor Hotel.

A complimentary dinner is scheduled Sunday night for out-of-state guests, and a tour of the Ozarks Monday for wives of the delegates.

Senate Officers to Be Nominated Monday

Although the school year has scarcely begun, it is time for considering the election of Student Senate officers.

These offices are of utmost importance and the selection of each candidate next Monday should be given great thought. In addition to meeting the formal requirements, all should be persons who are reliable and willing to put much time and effort into the job.

Officers of the Senate are president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and parliamentarian. To be eligible for one of these offices, a student must have completed 27 semester hours of college credit with an "M" average. Thirteen hours must have been earned in Joplin Junior College.

Each candidate for each office must be nominated by a petition bearing at least 15 signatures of student body members. The petition shall read: "We the undersigned, hereby place the name of _____." A petition shall bear the name of one candidate and should be filed in the main office not later than 3:30 o'clock, Monday afternoon, September 18. An assembly introducing the candidates will be held during the second period on September 20. The final election will be held immediately following the assembly. The final election will be held on September 29.

Twenty senators will be elected on a basis of proportional representation by the student body. Class officers will be elected and senators nominated in meetings of each class on September 27.

Before voting, remember to ask yourself, "Is this person qualified mentally and physically to do the job well without sacrificing his grades or his health?"

B. Higgins Represents Y. W. C. A. at Estes

Brenda Higgins served as the delegate from Joplin Junior College at two Y. W. C. A. conferences held from June 6 to June 14 at Estes Park, Colorado.

The first conference was a leadership training session where Brenda was elected Missouri district promoter of "Intercollegiate Magazine" published by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

The second conference included entertainment and outside activities for the delegates. Brenda acted as choreographer for the closing night program. On the lighter side, she climbed Teddy's Teeth, three mountains in Theodore Roosevelt National Park in Colorado.

Dr. Billingsly Becomes Fifth Dean of College

Dr. Leon Billingsly, former professor of education and head of laboratory training school at Kansas State College in Pittsburg, has succeeded Dr. Maurice Litton as Dean of Joplin Junior College.

Dr. Billingsly taught at Golden City High School from 1950 to 1952. He then joined the faculty of Lamar High School where he taught for two years before returning to Golden City as Superintendent of Schools in 1954. From 1958 to 1959 Dr. Billingsly served as Superintendent of Schools at Pleasant Hill. He then joined the staff at Kansas State College in Pittsburg. Last winter he took a leave of absence to complete his studies for a doctorate degree at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville.

Dr. and Mrs. Billingsly have purchased a home at 2918 East Sixteenth. They have one daughter who is in the third grade.

Dr. Litton accepted a position at Florida State University and will serve as coordinator of junior colleges in that state.

Dr. Billingsly, who is the fifth dean of Joplin Junior College, arrived early in August and worked closely with Dean Litton before his departure.

Look and Listen For Daily Bulletins

Every morning announcements from the office, organizations, teachers, and students appear on the main bulletin board located on the second floor. Other bulletin boards throughout the building carry information of interest to all students.

Announcements are also given directly to the classrooms over the public address system at the beginning of the second hour by Dean Billingsly, or a member of his staff.

It is our responsibility to watch bulletin boards and listen to announcements in order that we may know what is happening at Junior College.

Announcements must be handed to Mrs. Shirley Wilson in the office before 8:30 in the morning, or they will be listed in the announcements for the following day.

An Optimistic Future

Although our twenty-fifth anniversary is a good time for reflecting and praising our merits, it is perhaps a better time to chart future accomplishments. For the first time, junior college students in Missouri can plan more optimistically their first two years of college. Formerly, the junior college was supported only by local taxes, with no state aid. But, with the passage of the junior college bill this summer, each full-time student attending a junior college will add $200 to Missouri school funds.

This means that the benefits of a junior college will be available to all. Students attending a community college enjoy such extras as being able to live at home while attending college. Another advantage is that in a good smaller institution, students receive more personalized attention.

In addition to the passage of the junior college bill, the Missouri Legislature has passed another measure favoring schools. For the first time, Missouri has fully financed the school foundation program with added state aid to the first twelve grades.

Many people are responsible for the passage of the junior college legislation. Representative Landis of Newton County, along with a co-sponsor from St. Louis County, introduced the bill in the Seventy-First General Assembly on February 1, 1961. We are particularly grateful to Joplin Junior College President Roi S. Wood who has worked many years fostering the measure, and we are proud that Attorney Edward G. Farmer, a Junior College graduate, as early as March 9, 1959, introduced a resolution to propose a similar bill, when he was serving as representative from this district.

May the next twenty-five years bring as much progress and as many advantages to young people as the last.

Faculty

During the summer, faculty members traveled far and wide. They studied and taught at colleges and universities, went sightseeing and visiting.

Milton W. Brietzke visited Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine. While there, he attended plays and observed the procedures of musical comedy.

Dr. Lloyd Dryer taught the graduate courses Psychological Testing and The Junior College at Kansas State College of Pittsburg in June and July. During August he visited in New York City and Washington, D. C. In New York he saw several plays and attended a session of the United Nations. He also attended a session of the Senate and House of Representatives in Washington.

Merrill Ellis attended a seven-week music seminar at the Rocky Ridge Music Center in Estes Park, Colorado, where his daughter, Pat, was a student. He was the resident composer and he taught music theory. Concerts, hiking, and fishing occupied his leisure time.

While at Rocky Ridge, he fulfilled a commission to John Haynie, trumpet soloist on the faculty of North Texas State College in Denton, Texas. The composition entitled "Einyah Festival" is a score for solo trumpet, piano, and band.

His family joined him during the last week of the seminar after which they took a three-week camping trip through the Southwest.

Harry C. Gockel spent several days in Philadelphia and New York. According to him, Philadelphia is a city that every person should visit in order to acquire Americanism.

Paul Jensen took a six-week course in advanced real calculus at Clark University in Worcester, Massachusetts, July 5 through August 15. He said that the course consisted of difficult and rigorous proofs of things already known and that people from the United States and South America attended.

Mrs. Mary Kirk Kelly attended the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. She also spent much time in Washington, D. C., New York, and Charleston which she especially enjoyed.

Mrs. Grace Mitchell attended a two-week workshop at Northeast Missouri State College. Dr. Bryce Harris, past president of the National Council of Teachers of English, instructed a course in English composition, and Dr. Roma King, author of "Bow and Lyre," conducted a course on the psychology of Browning's poetry.

Miss Margaret Mitchell and Miss Lela Smith, by invitation, attended a summer institute for junior college teams at the University of Florida in Gainesville during the week of July 31 through August 5.

The institute was supported from funds the Kellogg Foundation has granted to the University of Florida and Florida State University for the training of leaders in junior colleges of the southeastern region.

Another team from Joplin Junior College will attend the institute next year.

Miss Mitchell and Miss Smith spent the week before and after the summer institute sightseeing along the Gulf route from Florida to New Orleans.

Miss Vera Steininger visited the Lincoln Memorial in Springfield, Illinois, while on vacation this summer.

A. B. Collins, Former P. E. Instructor, Dies

Mr. A. B. Collins, physical education instructor and head coach during the first years of Joplin Junior College, died Sunday at his home in Cameron. He was a graduate of the University of Missouri and came to the College from a position at Joplin High School.

Junior College sophomores enjoyed unusual and fascinating jobs and vacations this summer. From Florida shores to California sands, they were on the job or just plain having fun.

On the job in Yellowstone sounds like the ideal. Don Ashworth and Bob Dentner spent the summer working in the kitchen of Old Faithful Inn. Besides making money, they were able to see the park, explore, and even catch some trout.

Connie Adams and Jean Ranum spent three weeks of leisure basking under Old Sol at Vero Beach, Florida.

Donna Cochran went all the way to Denver, Colorado, to work with five and six-year-olds in Vacation Bible School.

Vacation Bible School provided another opportunity for Treva Gilstrap. She worked on the Cherokee Indian Reservation at Kenmore, Oklahoma. She learned to sing several songs in Cherokee and also discovered that when somebody forgets to bring meat from town, pork and bean sandwiches can taste pretty good.

Janet Caldemeyer toured California, managing to see Disneyland and Laguna Beach. Along the way to California she stopped off at Grand Canyon and Carlsbad Caverns.

Jerry Zeller, John Emrick, and Jerry West spent an unusual summer working for the Forest Service in St. Joseph National Forest in Idaho. Some of their work included spraying trees and fighting forest fires. They commented that at times human company was so scarce they had to resort to chasing cows.

Joe Ellis spent the summer on tour with the famed Russ Carlyle Band. In Virginia Beach, Virginia, the band had the exciting experience of backing Nelson Eddy. Joe commented that the best part of the summer was the experience gained and seeing all kinds of people having fun.

Nancy Newby, who visited in New Jersey and New York City, said that she was awed by so many people representing so many different races and backgrounds. She also enjoyed seeing a broadway show "The Happiest Girl in the World," along with Greenwich Village and the top of the Empire State Building.

Teachers to Study About Communism

School will be dismissed October 4, in order that teachers may attend a workshop on "Teaching About Communism and the American Way of Life."

Speakers for the workshop include Dr. Clifton Ganus, Vice-President, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas; Dr. Alum Proctor, Dean of Graduate School, Kansas State College of Pittsburg; Dr. George S. Benson, Chancellor, Oklahoma Christian College, Oklahoma City; and Dr. Dudley Cornish, professor of history, Kansas State College, Pittsburg.

Annual Mixer Opens Year's Social Events

Joplin Junior College's Summer Cabinet sponsored the annual mixer Wednesday night which began with a scavenger hunt in the gym. Prizes were awarded to the persons who found the most "items" on the scavenger list.

Following the hunt, the students proceeded to the auditorium for a program picturing Juco life in an off-beat, and quite untrue, manner. After the program, everyone returned to the gym for refreshments and dancing.

Organizations to Give Skits in Assembly During Sixth Period

Lions Bomb Fairbury in Interstate Conference Opener

Experienced Backfield Boosts Grid Score to 40-6 at Home

The Fairbury, Nebraska, "Bombers" should be renamed "The Bombed" for this was the story as our Lions opened their 1961-62 football season by beating the bombers 40-6.

The Lions, looking for revenge of last year's 13-6 defeat by the Nebraskans, started their attack midway through the first period when linebacker Ronnie Phillips intercepted a Bomber pass and returned it to Fairbury's 17-yard line. "Bull" Hayes hit the center of the attackers' line for two yards. Halfback Wally Carr then swept end for the final 15 yards and the Lions' first of six touchdowns.

After Fairbury took the kickoff, they fumbled on the second play and once again the fine defensive ability of Ronnie Phillips was displayed as he covered the loose pigskin on the Fairbury 25-yard line. Four plays later, Hayes, displaying his nickname, "Bulled" his way through the Bombers for six yards and Joplin's second touchdown. His try for the extra point went wide and as the first period ended, Joplin led 12-0.

The first quarter would have been enough to defeat Fairbury, but the Lions were set on pouring it on.

Joplin's third touchdown was shared by the complete backfield. Wally Carr, Glen Graham, Bull Hayes and Bob Edmonson all carried the ball during the 41-yard drive which climaxed with Joplin's third touchdown. Hayes added the extra point and Joplin led 19-0.

Joplin kicked off to Fairbury and on the Bombers' first play, Joplin's reserve quarterback, Ron Lofton, intercepted a pass and raced 53 yards to give Joplin its fourth touchdown. Bull's aim was again true on the extra point try and Joplin led 26-0.

With 17 seconds left in the half, quarterback Kenny Walden went through the middle of Fairbury's line for the last touchdown of the first half.

Joplin led at half-time 33-0. Fairbury's lone touchdown came in the third quarter after the Bombers had recovered a Lion fumble on the Fairbury 8-yard line. Harold Kentworthy, the right halfback, raced around end for the touchdown score.

Joplin's final touchdown came in the fourth quarter when once again Ronnie Phillips intercepted a Bomber pass, and raced 27 yards to pay dirt. Hayes kicked the extra point.

Joplin's next start will be at Independence, Kansas, next Thursday night. The non-conference contest will start at 7:30 p.m.

Cheerleaders Tryout Monday Afternoon

Cheerleading tryouts take place Monday afternoon in the gymnasium. Practices are scheduled for fifth and sixth periods with finals at 3:30.

A committee headed by Miss Venus Yount will select the winners.

Dean Sets High Goal

Billingsly stressed that one of the major aims is to keep Joplin Junior College one of the best colleges in the United States. He emphasized the importance of self-evaluation, pointing out the danger of successful institutions and individuals who fail to re-examine.

Dean Billingsly said that the fine reputation Joplin Junior College has with deans of four-year colleges was the leading factor in his wishing to come.

Nancy Newby, accompanied by Judy Holden, sang "Without a Song."

The Reverend Charles Gibson of Blendville Christian Church offered the invocation and the benediction.

Library Adds Record Number Of Books on Many Subjects

Juco students have more of an opportunity for good reading now than ever before. This summer the library added a record 834 books to its shelves making a total of approximately 11,500 books.

Special efforts have been made to build up areas which previously contained only a few books. Interesting and valuable information from many fields loads the library shelves.

"The Story of Civilization," Will Durant's five-volume history of mankind, was added to the history section. Thomas B. Costain's "The Magnificent Century" and "The Three Edwards" along with "The Conquerors," an earlier purchase, make English history interesting and readable.

Several books concerning areas of the globe now in the news include Cloete's "The African Giant" and Arciniegas "The Green Continent" on South America.
